MINING NOTES
From all Parts

The New York mail estimates that over $50,000,000 have been invested in Bullfrog district and other mining districts in Nevada, and a great part of this comes from the wealthiest, shrewdest and most successful mine operators of this as well as other countries, says the Beatty Bullfrog Miner. There are included among these operators capitalists of London who represent over $100,000,000.

General Superintendent Joe Farren has dispatched a crew of men from Salt Lake to the Western Exploration company's mines at Golconda, Nev., with instructions to immediately get the company's smelter in order for operations. It is intended to run this plant this summer under methods decided as likely to successfully handle the output of these mines.

Reports from the southern part of Nevada are to the effect that the Greenwater district, which is to be tapped by Boray Smith's new railroad, is coming in as the largest copper producer yet found, with the exception of Ely. The Furnace Creek Copper company's property is the most prominently mentioned so far as an illustration of what the country may disclose with development. Seven properties are said to have been sold recently to capitalists anxious to proceed with practical operations.

The Empire State Nevada Mining Company, composed of Salt Lake men has paid the second installment of the purchase price on a group of claims at Fairview, adjoining the Fairview Central, which the company will vigorously develop.

The construction of the railroad between Blair siding on the Tonopah and Goldfield railroad and Silver Peak camp, is continuing so rapidly that it is expected to be in operation sixty days hence. The distance is seventeen miles. As soon as the materials can be transported over this railroad the Pittsburg-Silver Peak Mining Company will commence the erection of a 100-stamp mill for the treatment of the Mohawk-Alpine ores.
